

OXFORD MARTIN SCHOOL
DISTINGUISHED PUBLIC LECTURE

GLOBAL GOVERNANCE, LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

BY PASCAL LAMY

DIRECTOR-GENERAL OF THE WORLD TRADE ORGANIZATION

introduced by Lord Patten of Barnes
Chancellor of the University of Oxford

THURSDAY 8 MARCH, 5.00PM
THE EXAMINATION SCHOOLS, OXFORD

As we face some of the biggest challenges of the 21st century, how equipped are global governance structures to coordinate and address issues such as climate change, trade tensions, food security and economic uncertainty? How do we resolve the inevitable strains that exist between global and national priorities in such debates?
